Brief Summary of project

In 2021 RNIB reported that in the borough of Wandsworth 40% of blind and visually impaired residents are moderately or completely cut off from society and that only 17% are offered emotional support for their sight loss. The practice of yoga is well known for its health and wellbeing benefits and previous feedback from our community yoga classes has indicated this. By offering virtual yoga classes based on Zoom to the blind and visually impaired residents of Wandsworth, we will be contributing to the objectives of the Better Care Fund and improving people's health while they are unable to access community groups for exercise due to the pandemic.

Our 50+ coffee morning is a unique project and the only one of its kind operating (even in Covid) in the whole of south London. It is a safe place for LGBTQ+ people to meet, engage positively and confidently with each other in the context of an inclusive project for 50 plus people in general. The project is seeking support to cover a period of 6 months Group Facilitator costs for 2.5 days a week as the role of the Facilitator has developed over the pandemic to offer multi strands of support to the members at an exceedingly difficult time.

Theatre503 will deliver an original Christmas production, inspired by the story of "Snow White", suitable for all ages. This follows a successful pilot last year which offered a livestreamed 'interactive' panto. This project will consolidate both strands to offer a combined in-person version of the production and a livestreamed version delivered free to schools. The project will further its reach to engage with care/residential settings and work with the council to ensure other local residents who are still vulnerable can experience the production remotely, taking account of the ongoing impact of the pandemic.

due to their isolation. Therefore this Christmas Lunch is especially important as it will give our 250- The project will deliver a pilot food collection and composting programme in Battersea, through the use of 10 hot composting bins which will allow the processing of large quantities of food waste, to ensure that as much of this valuable resource is recycled and used for the benefit of the community and the environment. Local organisations will have the opportunity to adapt a composter, and be trained to use this to compost their own food, food waste from Waste Not Want Not and neighbours in the community.

The project aims to raise awareness of the aims of White Ribbon Day by commissioning local artists to produce works in support of the campaign to stop domestic violence against women (and men). With the agreement of the owners and landlords, artwork will be hung in three local pubs in the fortnight leading up to White Ribbon Day (25 November) and the week after it. It is hoped that the awareness of the campaign and knowing how and where to seek help will reduce the violence against women in Roehampton and Putney. Leaflets will be distributed in the areas where the artwork is exhibited and the message will be reinforced at workshops in a safe space led by professionals.

The project will run 6 monthly messy and sensory play sessions for families with babies and children from birth to 36 months old. A total of 18 sessions provide, 3 each day for different age groups; Birth to crawling; walking to 24 months; 2-3 years. The project aims to support vulnerable families who do not have access to quality play experiences. The sessions will support children's learning and development in line with Early Years Foundation stage.

Providing access to clothes to people who struggle to clothe themselves. The project partners with third party charities who distribute clothing vouchers to people who find themselves in severe financial hardship which can be redeemed at partner charity shops.

Future Men, with partner Dynamic Groove, will use dance as a medium for communicating messages of well-being to young people (11-18) at St. John Bosco college to increase their knowledge of how they can support themselves and peers build and maintain well-being and know where to seek support when they are not as well as they could be in school, in the community and access safe and responsible information online. Dynamic Groove will also work with local youth health services to promote their services so that students increase their knowledge of the local offer and how to access it.
