Neighbourhood and Community - tackling Anti-social Behaviour (ASB), local area cooperation and neighbourhood management

Neighbourhood-Landlords' role, working with other agencies, to contribute to the wellbeing of neighbourhoods in which tenants live

Neighbourhood – what the regulator expects

- Neighbourhoods matter to tenants and landlords. Landlords should play their role in contributing to the upkeep and safety of shared spaces.
- Neighbourhood remains an important theme for our regulatory standards. In considering our standards in this area we are mindful of the role of registered providers as landlords and the fact that they are not always the primary organisation responsible for all aspects of their neighbourhoods. Landlords and other organisations working together can achieve better outcomes for the neighbourhoods in which tenants live.

Current Neighbourhood Service Standards

- Respond to Wandsworth Emergency Control (WEC) calls that require the attendance of an officer within 30 minutes
- Operate the WEC 24 hour emergency service, seven days a week, 365 days a year
- Remove 98% of all graffiti within target time
- Provide a dedicated noise nuisance line during and outside of normal working hours
- Report on the percentage of follow up actions completed in 5 days after a noise complaint has been received
- Provide a recorded information message for major incidents, for example, where there is large scale electrical failure in an area
- Take action against those responsible for ASB. In the most serious cases this could result in a tenant (or leaseholder) losing their home
- Record the number of new ASB cases reported within the year and report on the number of cases successfully closed within the year
- Keep you informed about what action can be taken to address ASB and its outcome

Tenancy – what the regulator expects

- Landlords must have a fair and transparent allocations process.
- Landlords will also need to think about how they make the best use of their housing stock and how it might be used to meet the diverse needs of their tenants and potential tenants.
- Wider economic and cost of living pressures highlight the importance of effective tenancy management, so that tenancies are sustained where appropriate. This includes supporting tenants, as well as working closely, and cooperating with local authorities in meeting their duties.
