This leaflet explains how to a raise a concern with our Quality Assurance and Contract Monitoring Team if you are unhappy with your service.

What are our aims in the Quality Assurance and Contract Monitoring Team?

We want you to receive high quality care and support and we aim to do this by:

- Working closely with you, your social care worker, your home support agency or care home to improve our services.
- Giving feedback to your home support agency and care worker or care home to improve the standard of your service.
- Contacting you by letter or telephone, or visiting you at your home, day centre or care home, to talk to you about your experience of the services you receive.
- Visiting you with your social care worker or home support provider, if necessary, to follow up your concerns and make sure that you receive a high standard of care and support.
- Keeping you informed of the action we are taking to resolve your problems then contacting you to make sure that you are happy with the outcome.

What is a concern?

A concern is a problem with the services you receive relating to your home care or care home, reablement, meal service or respite care, which may worry or distress you.

Here are some examples:

- Your care worker arriving too early or too late, or missing your call.
- No one calling from your care provider to tell you your care worker has been delayed or changed.
- Anything else you want us to resolve, improve or note.
- Care staff not responding to your call bell or requests for assistance.
- Food provided at meal times being cold or of poor quality.
- Laundry not being returned to you.

What will we do?

Your concern will be registered with us and we will:

- Investigate your concern with the care provider or organisation.
- Try to resolve your problem and tell you what will happen as a result.
- Review all concerns as lessons for improvement.
- Consider making changes, where appropriate, to the way we work as a result of your concern or the issues that you have raised.
