Home Support providers in Wandsworth

People choose particular providers for different reasons. It's important to take your time to choose a provider that you trust, and who will provide you with the care and support you need.

You should consider asking the following questions to help you make your decision:

- Can they help you at the times of day or night you need them?
- If you have a specific health condition for example, do they have the experience and skills to support you?
- Is there an out-of-hours or emergency contact if needed?
- What training and supervision do they provide for their care workers?
- What does their fee cover? Do they pay care and support workers a fair wage?
- Are you confident that their care and support workers will treat you with respect and dignity?
- How will the provider communicate with you to make sure you're happy?
- If you have a problem, how does it get resolved?
- Are you confident you will not be discriminated against because of your age, gender, race, disability, faith or sexual orientation?
